

Expect Arrest In Brunen Case

New Jersey Authorities Anticipate Action Being Taken By Tomorrow.

RIVERSIDE, N. J., March 19.—Jonathan H. Kelsey, prosecutor of Burlington county, stated today that he expected to cause the arrest of a man in connection with the slaying of John Brunen, the circus "Honest John" Brunen, the circus owner. He added that within the last 24 hours investigation of the murder had developed two strong points, either one of which might lead to the identity of the man who shot and killed Brunen while he was reading a newspaper in the kitchen of a rooming house on Broadway Avenue.

He added that the development which led to the arrest of a man in connection with the slaying of Brunen, the circus owner, was that within the last 24 hours investigation of the murder had developed two strong points, either one of which might lead to the identity of the man who shot and killed Brunen while he was reading a newspaper in the kitchen of a rooming house on Broadway Avenue.

Injured Woman May Be Removed Home This Week

Further improvement in the condition of Mrs. Cora G. Cunningham, shot twice by her husband on Friday evening, was reported at Edmunds Hospital today. It is likely that the injured woman will be able to be taken to her home on Patton street by Wednesday. Neither bullet wound has proved serious and there are no signs of complications to be seen. Development of the x-ray negatives taken on Saturday revealed a surprise. The negative of the head which it was believed on of the two bullets was found failed to disclose the injury and examination of the hat which Mr. Cunningham was wearing at the time revealed that the bullet had never penetrated the fabric but had had sufficient force to make a slight abrasion behind the ear, leaving the impression that a bullet had passed into the head. The bullet in the body was found to have lodged against a rib, ranging round and being under the left arm.

Cunningham, who is charged with a second degree murder, was taken to the hospital on Friday evening. He was reported to have sent for his attorney this morning but the lawyer is in Chatham, attending court, as is Commonwealth's Attorney John A. Carter. For this reason nothing could be learned this morning of what plans are being made, either by the defense or the prosecution. It is still believed, however, that the plea of insanity will be set up by counsel for the defense at which time efforts will be made to show this to be hereditary. The Commonwealth's attorney has asked Magistrate W. E. Gings not to hold lunacy proceedings until he confers on the matter with the judge of the court. Judge Withers will be out of town probably until the middle of the week so that no further steps are likely until his return.

Mrs. Nel Coleman, sister of the accused, who came here from Charlottesville about two months ago to keep house for her brother on Jefferson street, left Danville on Sunday morning with her children for her former home. Mrs. E. R. Cunningham, of Augusta, Fla., mother of the accused, accompanied her daughter as far as Lynchburg where she is now visiting.

It is understood that Miss Cora Cunningham, daughter, has requested that she be allowed to see the original notes left by her father on the mantel shelf of his room in which he expressed affection for his wife and daughter and at the same time expressed his intention of ending his own life. It is these threats which have been a factor in causing Cunningham's counsel to avoid asking for bail.

Early yesterday morning the local authorities received word from Yanceyville to watch out for the negro as he was said to have been seen at Purley and was headed in this direction. Sergeant J. L. Edwards and Patrolman R. S. Adams left in an automobile to "Go to Hell" following this statement Cabell ran into the rear of the restaurant, which is operated as a pool room. He was found hiding beneath a pool table and when Reynolds attempted to arrest him he resisted and the officer claims that he struck him several times after the negro grabbed at his collar. Cabell was partly under the influence of whiskey, it was said.

Cabell was fined $10 by the mayor.

Arrest Negro For Shooting Foreman

Nelson Clayton in Local Hospital With a Severe Wound Inflicted by Harvey McCullin, Arrested by Local Authorities.

Nelson K. Clayton, employed as foreman by a construction company, working on the road at Yanceyville, is a patient in Edmunds Hospital suffering from a pistol wound in the abdomen, inflicted by Harvey McCullin, a negro, the shooting taking place late Saturday night. The negro has been arrested by local authorities and was turned over to the sheriff of Caswell county yesterday.

Little is known of what actually led to the shooting. Clayton had occasion to be up late Saturday night straightening up some of his affairs for the week. The negro is also employed by the company but in a different division. Clayton left his quarters in the camp and it was but a few moments before a pistol shot rang out, and other employees soon found Clayton with a wound in the side of the abdomen. The negro had fled.

Early yesterday morning the local authorities received word from Yanceyville to watch out for the negro as he was said to have been seen at Purley and was headed in this direction. Sergeant J. L. Edwards and Patrolman R. S. Adams left in an automobile to "Go to Hell" following this statement Cabell ran into the rear of the restaurant, which is operated as a pool room. # Police Recover Another Auto

News Boxes On Street Cars Are In Ford Touring Car Sold by C. A. Frazier to Guy Shelton Is Surrendered As Stolen Property.

Installation of the "Read-Wyl-U-Ryd" newspaper boxes on most of the regular street cars in Danville was completed this morning. The boxes are being installed by the Register and Bee company, with the consent of the Danville Traction and Power company for the sole purpose of convenience to the public.

The boxes are placed at either end of the street car and the newspapers are put into them. The Register in the morning, and The Bee in the afternoon. There is no mechanism to the boxes only a place being provided for the papers and a slot on the side in which to place the money. The prices are printed on the outside and the public is entrusted with paying for the papers as a matter of honesty. They simply take a paper and drop the amount into the slot. The boxes are owned by the "Read-Wyl-U-Ryd" company, of Dayton, Ohio, which received a commission on the gross sales. Eight such machines have been installed and others which will be placed in every Danville street car are on the way.

Alabama Hit By Severe Storm

(By The Associated Press.) COLUMBUS, Ga., March 20.—An electrical storm, sweeping the county, Alabama, destroyed much property and killed on person last night, according to reports received here.

Campbell declares that Frazier admitted selling the car to Shelton. No warrants bearing on this case were anticipated at police headquarters this morning.

Obenchain Jury Fails to Agree

Judge Dismisses Them Upon the Announcement That They Are Holelessly Divided.

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 1.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, reported Judge Sidney N. Reeve at 7:49 tonight that it was unable to reach an agreement, and was discharged.

Most of the jurors, after they were discharged, were reluctant to talk with newspaper men. One threw a reporter out of the way when he sought information as to whether the majority favored acquittal or conviction.

"I guess I've got some rights as a citizen," the juror shouted. Another juror said that nine favored conviction, and that the division had been on that basis from the first ballot.

The foreman stated to the judge the division was nine to three, but as the law requires, did not say whether the majority favored conviction or acquittal.

Judge Reeve reset the case for next Tuesday, March 21, when he said, he would at the day for the new trial.

Mrs. Obenchain was in court when the jury reported. She looked pale and worried.

The foreman in a statement to Judge Reeve, confirmed that the decision had been nine to three from the beginning.

Two of the women members voted for conviction, the third for acquittal, one juror said.

Another development about this time was the finding of two empty shotgun cartridges near the scene of the slaying. Also deputy sheriffs found marks of automobile tires in a secluded place near the Kennedy cottage. One of these indicated a peculiar tread, declared by automobile men to be little used in Los Angeles. Soon afterwards the manager of an auto rental establishment declared he identified Burck as a man who had rented a car with a tire of that kind, on the night of August 5.

The next development was the finding of the stock of a shotgun of the caliber of the cartridges, in the surf at Santa Monica. The owner of the automobile said the speedometer showed it had travelled 44 miles, the distance from the garage to Santa Monica and back, by way of Beverly Glen.

Burch, when questioned about the evidence declared to have been accumulated, said he had "nothing to say" except that everything would be explained at the proper time. Mrs. Obenchain held to her original story about the shooting being done by "a friend" and said she was positive Burck had nothing to do with it. She said she had asked Burck to come to Los Angeles because she believed it would be beneficial to his health.

Obenchain came to Los Angeles in response to a telegraphic request from her former husband, Burck's father, to come to the same train and remain until the arraignment of the prisoners, at which time Judge Reeve set the trial dates for Nov. 1.

Burch, at the time of the shooting of Kennedy was defendant in a suit for divorce, brought at Lawrence, Kansas, by Mrs. Alice Quayle Burch, daughter of Bishop William Quayle, of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Burch was subsequently granted a divorce decree and permission to re-marry without it, and checked out some her maiden name.

Appeal Reverses Dickerson Verdict In Halifax Court

Supreme Court Annuls 10-Year Term Imposed on Negro—Draper Verdict Is Upheld.

The decision of a jury in Halifax circuit court nearly a year ago, in which George Dickerson, a negro, was convicted of killing William Rickman, a farmer of that section, and sentenced to serve ten years in the penitentiary has been reversed by the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, the opinion being handed down by Judge Rickman.

According to the record, Rickman was found lying dead on a highway. He was badly bruised, and near him was a bottle of "pineapple extract." Jim Coleman, a negro, who had been selling things to eat and drink, nearby, was arrested and placed in jail. A mob gathered and fired into the jail and told Coleman that if he would tell who did the killing nothing would be done to him. He persistently declared that he did not know who killed Rickman. Later, apparently under pressure, he declared that Dickerson did the killing. The court holds that the circumstances are such as to discredit his testimony.

With this opinion was handed down another in a companion case, that of John H. Draper, white, who was arrested and charged with taking part in the attempt to lynch the negro. Draper was convicted and fined $500 and ordered to jail for 12 months. He noted an appeal and the decision has been sustained by the Virginia Supreme Court which held that the accused had been fairly dealt with by the jury in a dissenting opinion, holds that the case should be reserved because the commonwealth's attorney went before the grand jury while that body was deliberating on the indictment.

There were several other indictments against men charged with taking part in the assault on the jail. The case tried after Draper's resulted in an acquittal and a nolle prosequi was taken in the remaining cases.

these conforming to plans and specifications which have been drawn up for the new power unit by the Schofield Engineering Company, which drew plans for the city power house. It is expected that as there is keen competition between the manufacturers of this type of machinery, and that as the contract is one involving a considerable amount that the bidding will be close.

The new unit proposed will practically double the capacity of the power plant and it is expected to take care of Danville's needs for several years to come. The steam turbine will be a large and powerful one and its installation involves the building of additional boilers, pumps and other electrical current. It is anticipated that no time will be lost in awarding the contract since it is considered important that the work be finished before next fall when dark days and the normal increase in the consumption of power which is expected during the present year will mean further demands on the plant which is today carrying its capacity load.

BYERS CONFESSES TO ROBBERY THEN MAKES HIS ESCAPE

Will Byers, the only man who confessed to the robbery of J. M. Still's store at Cascade, Thursday night, made a dash for liberty Saturday at Schoolfield police headquarters. He had been allowed to go into a room adjoining the office to confer with attorney B. H. Custer, when he jumped out of the window and ran. So far he has not been apprehended. It has developed that the peculiar tread of the tire and the chains of the child's car in which the alleged thieves were riding is responsible for the finding of the men. The robbery was discovered early Friday morning by Ray Bowles, at whose house Still owner of the store lives. He at once notified the Schoolfield authorities. Starting at the store the car was traced by the tread of the tire and by chains on the car to a point near the city pumping station at Danville. The officers did not find the car the first time they went to the pumping station, but went back to Schoolfield and later returned and found the car occupied by George Smith, son of Sam Smith who runs the pumping station. Smith admitted that he had taken the car out the night before and gave the names of Velt Sutphin, William B. and Phil Sutphin, Smith and these men were arrested and Byers confessed. The other men denied participating in the robbery. Smith stated that he had been hired to drive the party had gotten drunk and knew nothing of what had happened. The car belonged to Officer Jennings of the Schoolfield force and was used as a transfer car. Smith was hired by him to drive the machine. Practically all of the goods stolen at the store were recovered.

TWO NEGROES BEING HELD FOR ROBBERY

The arrests took place Saturday afternoon of George Scott and Will Masie both negroes, on charges of breaking into and robbing two stores on Union street Friday night. They were Kopien's clothing establishment and the New York pool room operated by Tom Dentiste. Scott was found attending a dance at Mountain Hill while Masie was arrested on Red Row. The arrests were made by Detectives Lewis and Campbell and Patrolman R. A. Adams. Negligence of the two negroes in leaving coats of their old clothes at the Kopien store in exchange for new garments which they stole furnished clues on which the officers worked finally leading to the arrests. The clothing store was entered through a skylight, the negroes lowering themselves by means of a rope. They refitted themselves with new garments and carelessly left the old ones on the scene. The poolroom was entered at the rear, entrance being gained by prying off iron bars from a window. A pistol and $20 in cash were taken. All the stolen goods were recovered by the officers yesterday.

Tigh School Notes
Minstrel practice reading and debating contests, baseball practice preparations for the High school year book—all these things have kept the High school folk busy during the week. The minstrel performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25, at the Municipal building. On Monday night at a quarter past eight o'clock the contest in reading, oratory and debating will be held at the High school. Friends are invited to attend. At that time a boy reader, a girl reader, an orator and a debating team will be chosen to contest against Charlottesville High school. It has recently been learned that Greensboro High school won the championship of North Carolina. Danville High school won two games from Greensboro High. Accordingly, it seems that after all Danville High won a championship.

The Domestic Science department of the High school, under the direction of Mrs. S. E. Hughes, presented a delicious five course banquet on Friday night to the basketball squad and some of their friends. The dining room was decorated in red and gray, the school colors, and presented a festive scene when the candles were lighted and the guests were assembled. Pretty girls in "feichung" maid caps and aprons never looked more charming than they did while serving the delicious food which the good cooks had prepared. With the last course came the toast by Mr. Sidney B. Hall, principal of the High school. The toasts served both to create fun and to reveal good fellowship. There were toasts to all the men on the regular team, to the second team, to Coach Peale, to Mr. Hall, to Miss Proctor, and to those serving the banquet, and best of all there was joy and laughter and good cheer.

Miss Ethel Woods Bride Of Dr. Ray

One of the prettiest and most interesting weddings in Caswell county, N. C. for several years was that of Miss Ethel Woods, of Danville, who was married to Dr. Frank L. Ray, well known surgeon of Charlotte N. C., the Rev. A. J. Hobbs pastor of the church being the celebrant. The impressive and beautiful ceremony was witnessed by a large congregation, many coming from distant points. The wedding was followed by an informal reception at the residence of the bride's parents. While the guests were assembling Mrs. Basil Boyd, of Charlotte, a sister of the bride, seated in black lace, sang beautifully "Oh, Fair, Oh! Sweet and Holy". Soon afterward the strains of the wedding march from Tannhauser heralded the procession of the bride and groom. The bride wore a black lace gown with a blue sequin with collar of rosebuds and entering by the left aisle and alone, next the maid of honor, Miss Myrtle Fox Woods, sister of the bride, followed in white tulle with ribbon train and carrying a half-shower of rainbow sweet peas also entering alone by the left aisle. Then the little ring-bearer, Master Harry Clay Slade, J., clad in white satin and bearing the ring in a bursting rose, next, the flower-girl, little Miss Lucy Paylor Carter, dainty in a frock of white organdie and carrying rose-petals in the pathway to be trod by the bride. Then came the moment of expectancy, the appearance of the bride, who entered on the arm of her father, Samuel G. Woods, who later gave her in marriage. The bride's wedding gown was of Spanish lace over crepe, with court train and silk-velvet veil caught up with orange blossom. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was a shower.

Girl Leaps Wildly From Taxicab In Resisting Attack

Found Unconscious in Road By Witness of Battle With Two Men in Speeding Car.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The story of a girl's wild ride in a taxicab with two strange men, one of whom tried to attack her, forcing her to leap from the machine going at 25 miles an hour, in front of the country place of Moses Taylor on the State Road, two miles from Mount Kisco, became known yesterday when the police there verified reports that had been circulating in the town since Thursday, the morning after the story's occurrence.

Charles Scott, superintendent of the Taylor place in the gate house at the entrance about 8 o'clock Wednesday night, when his attention was attracted by a motor car coming down the road. He ran to the roadway in time to see a nondescript taxicab whizz by, its door open, a girl struggling to keep it open and a man in the driver's seat trying to keep it closed.

The car had passed him before Scott realized the scene and the girl succeeded in wrestling the door from the hands of the driver and throwing herself on the roadway, where she lay groaning. The car never slowed and was soon out of sight.

Scott hastened to the girl and found her bleeding, badly bruised and with clothing torn. She was conscious and he carried her to the gate house, where he administered first aid. He found her injuries were not so serious as he thought and she remained in his home until morning.

Mr. Scott said last night that the girl told him she was Marion Seinto, a trained nurse in the Columbus Hospital, at Bridgeport, Conn., in which city she said she lived. She said, according to Scott, that she had come to New York Wednesday to visit a sister who was a patient in Bellevue Hospital. Having an aunt living in Port Chester, N. Y., she decided to visit her after leaving her sister.

Shortly before she reached Port Chester on the train she felt ill, the girl said, and not being certain of her aunt's address, decided upon her arrival there to go back to New York. She hired a taxicab at the Port Chester station, manned by two "very big men."

Scott said the girl did not relate details of what had happened on the road.

In the morning Scott escorted the girl to Mount Kisco, where she boarded a train for this city. It then reported the occurrence at Mount Kisco police station.

Later in the day Mrs. J. M. Peck of Granite Springs, Westchester county, said the girl was her daughter, but refused to disclose her name. Mrs. Peck said her daughter had left home Wednesday evening. She took a train on the Putnam Division of the New York Central and while on board felt a nervous breakdown coming on. When the train reached Kitchawan she got off.

When her daughter alighted, Mrs. Peck said, she knew nothing, and was awakened living in the marshes near Quot Lake Thursday morning. Mrs. Peck said her daughter told her that she was awakened by two men who had an automobile. These men, Mrs. Peck said, took her to her home.

The girl, beyond being bruised and sustained no serious injury. Her mother said she was a trained nurse and had recently suffered a nervous breakdown.

THIS KENTUCKY FEUD'S REALLY A FAMILY AFFAIR

MRS. CHARLES LENAHAN AND HER FAMILY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 20.—There's a new "Kentucky feud" on here. It's different from any you've ever read about. The object of the old-time feud was to kill folks off. This feud aims to bring 'em into the world. It's really a family affair. The principals are two brothers, Charles and Joseph Lenahan. When the brothers married Charles said to Joseph, "Bet I'll bring up a bigger family than you will." And Joseph said to Charles, "Bet you won't." Today each brother has 11 children. When Robert Leo was born in Charles' home two months ago, the Charles Lenahans stepped into the lead. But a month later James Patrick arrived at the Joseph Lenahan home to even things up once more.

Man Saves 2 From Party of Lynchers

Commissary Manager in Coal Region Keeps Cool Head and Saves Situation.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 19.—According to citizens of Durham, D. W. Williams, young manager of the commissary at the Durham coal mines on Lookout Mountain, played a heroic role in the stirring episode that followed the killing of J. W. Morton, deputy sheriff by the Duke boys at Durham yesterday, having single-handedly prevented a lynching of the accused. The story related by witnesses in substance follows:

When the Central of Georgia train rolled up to the little loading station of the mining company yesterday, at noon, Ralph and George Baser searched out of their teens, stepped from a car near which Morton, 67 years of age was waiting to assist his invalid daughter, Mrs. Gordon Phillips, who had come to the mining town to be treated by the company doctor. One of the Duke boys picked himself up in front of the officer and said, "Well you got a warrant for us, have you?" Morton replied, "No, boys, I have no warrant for you."

Then without further words, the two brothers opened fire and the body man pitched forward with a head riddled with bullets, but fell as he was being helped.

The train stalled around the station, where the Duke boys, the manager of the tragedy, but Williams was in the commissary, some distance away, immediately ran to the scene. He secured a revolver from a bystander and called two other young men to his assistance, started in pursuit of the fleeing Duke boys. George Baker was soon run down and captured. When a mob of Duke boys had gathered there with a gun, Williams stepped forward and said, "I have no warrant for you, boys. I have no warrant for you."

Williams then stepped forward and said, "I have no warrant for you, boys. I have no warrant for you."

Williams then stepped forward and said, "I have no warrant for you, boys. I have no warrant for you."

wreak vengeance. One of the leaders then drew a line on the ground and asked all favoring hanging Baker to step across declaring that a majority should rule. Immediately nearly all of the hundred men present stepped across the dead line, but Williams again too a firm stand for law and order and again prevented a lynching.

The prisoner was then taken to Durham and turned over with his brother to Sheriff Harmon and both were placed in jail.

The killing of Deputy Morton was deliberately planned was indicated by the fact that the Duke boys are said to have cut the telephone wires before boarding the train at Flintstone for Durham. The affair centred upon the case of several other killings of officers by moonshiners and liquor runners has created tense feeling throughout the country.

Wireless Device Is Eavesdropper

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—Telephone conversations among neighbors have been lost in New York through a telephone device which the society for open air education announced that it had discovered. Alfred E. Profile, of Providence, Rhode Island, disclosed the device, which he called "eavesdropper" and is described in his story.

The society, however, attaches for the moment no importance to the device, which it has now placed in the hands of the police.

The device was made by the Society for Open Air Education, which is a non-profit organization, and was used by the society for the purpose of eavesdropping on the conversations of its members.

Sunday Proves a Bad Day For Fords

There were several automobile accidents in Danville and vicinity yesterday. At about half past five o'clock an automobile bearing a Hickory, N. C., tag coming up Main street, careened across the sidewalk and demolished part of the wall enclosing stores leading from the porch of the home of Barnett Lee, without, however, doing any personal injuries. Children are said to have been playing on the steps shortly before the accident took place. The steering gear of the Ford car appears to have become deranged causing the mishap.

Police Magistrate R. S. Fitts witnessed an accident at Stokesland almost in front of the postoffice. A Ford, five-passenger car, bearing Virginia license number 52965 and occupied by Dewey Knight, Tom Goble and Martin Dalton, three white youths was seen by the "Squire" at about 4 o'clock to run over the edge of the road and plunge down a 14 foot bank. After the crash nothing moved and no sound came from the wreck. Mr. Fitts thinking that the three men had been killed, hastened to the spot and seeing the three youths under the wreckage called out to them asking them why they did not come out. "We're just resting," was the only rejoinder the youths received from sepulchral voices under the car. The trio soon came out, however, and the car was righted. As a pint flask alleged to have contained whiskey was found in the car, the three youths were apprehended and will be tried tomorrow. They were none the worse for their experience.

Another accident took place in the city during the course of the day when a Ford car, is alleged to have been knocked by another heavier machine into a standing street car at the junction of Main and Union streets. Automobileists so fortunate as to negotiate the road from Ruffin to Danville, reported today heavy going and passing no fewer than eleven machines stalled in the mud.

Threw Liquor Away But Submits to Case

E. E. Norton submitted to a charge of violating the liquor laws in the Mayor's court this morning and was fined $20 and costs. J. H. Harrison, who was with Norton at the time of the arrest on the Chatham road Sunday, was fined $10 and costs for interfering with the police. Police Officer R. A. Adams, Prohibition Inspector, W. T. Shelton and three federal agents, were watching a certain house which they suspected in the neighborhood of the Sanitorium. They saw a Ford car drive to the house. Norton was seen to enter and come out in a few minutes. Having held the house under suspicion, the suite and federal officers hailed to the driver of the car to stop but they did not heed the instruction. Adams who was placed further down the road succeeded in stopping the car, only after Norton was seen to throw two bottles of whiskey to the side of the road. Norton claims that he threw the whiskey out in order not to implicate Harrison, whom he says did not know he had the epist.

A number of gamblers who were caught early Sunday morning at a store on Lynn street were dealt with. The following were fined $15.20 on gaming charges: B. J. Shelton, A. Womack, J. S. Thomas, C. W. Vance and L. N. Beach. C. B. Moran was fined $16.20 for gambling.

Allen Green, a negro was made to pay $20 and costs for carrying a razor on Sunday.

J. B. Shackelford fined $50 and costs for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Walter Bivins fined $28.10 on a charge of violating the Mapp act.

Robert Earley fined $10 and costs for violating the Mapp act.

George Abbott fined $16.95 for speeding.

George W. Lumpkin Dies in Washington

News has been received here of the death a few days ago of George W. Lumpkin son of the late Nat Lumpkin, in a hospital in Washington. Mr. Lumpkin will be well remembered by some of the older residents of Danville. He was for some years attached to the local postoffice staff and on leaving Danville became a postoffice inspector.

Winners of Prize Contest

The prize contest for the best reasons for trading at the new U. S. Save-It store which has been running for two weeks, came to a close on Friday. The committee, composed of Miss Caroline Arbus, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Margaret Maxon, secretary of the community welfare, and J. D. Harrison, cashier of the American National bank, decided the following as winners in the U-Save-It prize contest:

Mrs. Ada Gray, Mrs. N. L. Dabrymple, Warner T. Wood and Mrs. R. P. Momm. The committee had an interesting time, as the reasons given were very unique and novel. However, it was decided that those by the persons named about outstanding.

FANNIE PATTERSON
Of Gordon County, Georgia
Over 101 Years Old.

THIS wonderful old lady was born in South Carolina and moved to Georgia in her early years. Her husband was a member of the Home Guards, during the Civil War, being too old for the Confederate Army. Mrs. Patterson, despite her years, is still happy, active, and well.

To a visitor at her home, not long ago, Mrs. Patterson said:

"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught... and have kept it in the house as a family medicine, handing it down from generation to generation, as a laxative and liver tonic... I use it. My daughter uses it; my granddaughter uses it, and my great-granddaughter uses it and gives it to her daughter, who is 18."

MRS. ESTHER LEWIS
Fannie Patterson's Granddaughter
"I have a little baby, and after she was born I started taking Cardui to build me up. It is a fine tonic. Since I have been taking this medicine I have gained weight. My health is good."

MRS. SARAH BELCHER
Fannie Patterson's Daughter
"I was wasting away, and too weak to do my housework. When I heard about Cardui, I had given up hope of ever being well again. I took Cardui. It brought me through this critical time."

MRS. MONTIE McAFEE
Fannie Patterson's Granddaughter
with her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Mooney, Fannie Patterson's Daughter.
Mrs. McAfee (on left) says: "I have used Black-Draught off and on for 10 years. My mother has used it, too, and found it very beneficial."

MRS. LILLIE HAYES
Fannie Patterson's Granddaughter
"Cardui is a splendid medicine for women. My mother has taken it, and she told me about it. I have suffered from the first time. I take Cardui when run down. It helped me, when I could hardly go."

MRS. CLARA BELCHER
Wife of Fannie Patterson's Grandson
"About 10 years ago, I read about Cardui and decided to try it. I suffered dreadfully so weak. I improved from the first dose. I take Cardui when run down. It helped me, when I could hardly go."

MRS. NELL McAFEE BLALOCK
Fannie Patterson's Granddaughter
"A friend of mine told me about Cardui. I was not able to be on my feet when I first was to take Cardui. I was a very sick woman. My health has been good ever since I took the Cardui."

MRS. CLEO MORRIS
Fannie Patterson's Granddaughter
"About 4 years ago, I was run down and had the backache all the time. I took two bottles of Cardui and it did me a lot of good. I have since then I married and it helped me."

MRS. CLEO BELCHER
Wife of Fannie Patterson's Grandson
"I took Cardui 3 months. I had headaches and a dull pain in my back and sides. After I took Cardui, I improved. My sister and I have both taken it, and know it helped us."

MRS. FLORENCE DEW
Fannie Patterson's Granddaughter
"I remembered how much Cardui had helped me before, so I got a bottle and am taking it now and I have already begun to feel better. It always builds me up and gives me a good appetite."

MRS. SYDNEY BELCHER
Wife of Fannie Patterson's Grandson
"I was run down, listless and weak. I got a bottle of Cardui and took it. I began to improve from the first. I'm as well as I can be now. My back does not hurt any more, like it did."

MRS. LUCILE BELCHER
Fannie Patterson's Granddaughter
"My mother has been giving me Cardui for some time. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and I tried to raise my arms. I am taking Cardui to build me up, and it is doing it."

MRS. LEOBNA BELCHER
Wife of Fannie Patterson's Grandson
"I was feeling run down and in very poor health, so I got a bottle of Cardui. I have taken 4 of them and I feel like a different woman. It has looked like I could not drag another step."

A COMPLETE DIAGRAM of Mrs. Fannie Patterson's family tree recently was compiled, in which it was shown that she had 2 sons and 4 daughters, 29 grandchildren, 68 great-grandchildren, and 6 great-great-grandchildren living in Georgia, Alabama, Texas and Arizona.

Mrs. Patterson now resides near Adairville, Ga., with one of her daughters, Mrs. Sarah Belcher, aged 66. The old lady still owns the farm near Hydat, Ga., which her husband, Edward S. Patterson, acquired 13 years ago, shortly after he had moved from South Carolina with his young wife and little daughter (now Mrs. Mary E. Mooney, aged 18, of Rome, Ga.).

Thousands of people in the South have enjoyed seeing the "movie", at their local theatres, in which Mrs. Patterson and her son, Bob, were pictured on the old Patterson homestead place.

WHERE Mrs. Patterson was a child, many of her neighbors were Indians, and from them she learned to understand the Cherokee language. Questions of this kind, she says, may be heard in stories she tells of the long ago.

Her life has been full of interesting—and even thrilling—incidents, though mostly spent, close at home in Gordon and Bartow Counties, Georgia, where her children were born, educated and married.

Mrs. Patterson's strong character, keen will and homelike love brought her the friendship of people for many miles around her home.

The good use of Cardui—the woman's tonic—by younger women of the Patterson family is remarkable. The family is briefly described above, as related by the ladies themselves and given for publication in order that other women may read of how Cardui has proved valuable in these cases.

And What Her Kinsfolk Say About Cardui, The Woman's Tonic

Girls in "Knickers" Barred From School

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 19.—Knickerbockers have been banned from the Atlantic City High school, and girl students who appear for classes garbed in the mannish attire will be sent home for a change of clothing.

This was the edict of Principal Miller. He acted after Miss Grace Boyajian, a pretty sophomore, tripped on her way to her classes wearing a fawn colored suit, the most conspicuous parts of which were the "knickers" and the golf stockings.

Principal Miller called a faculty conference. Miss Boyajian was summoned. In five minutes she departed for home and returned wearing a short skirt.

"We couldn't countenance innovations of this type in school dress," said Principal Miller. "This is a radical change from the normal. Think what would occur. There are times and places for all things, and one could not approve of such young school misses in evening gowns attending classes, or boys appearing in evening clothes. The place for the knickers is one the golf course, not in the classroom. They cause too much lifting of the eyebrows."

Principal Miller refused last summer to prohibit girl students from "rolling 'em down" as long as there was not too much exposure of dimpled knees in evidence.

Queer Phenomenon Witnessed in Chicago

CHICAGO, March 19.—A pall of darkest night descended on Chicago at noon today. Automobiles turned on their headlights, street signs in the downtown district were lighted and the telephone exchanges and newspaper offices were deluged with thousands of anxious queries.

The mystery was solved by the Weather Bureau which reported that a sudden shifting of the winds had "piled up" all of the city's smoke in one monstrous cloud blanket through which not even a single sunbeam could force its way.

The phenomenon lasted only a few minutes, the lifting of the cloud having the appearance of a second sunrise.

Drummer Resists Attempted Holdup

WINCHESTER, March 19.—R. H. Hogan, traveling salesman, of Roanoke, successfully resisted an attempted holdup of his automobile near here this afternoon by a man claiming to be a federal prohibition agent. Hogan was on the Shenandoah Valley pike three miles from Winchester, when the stranger in a light car signaled for him to stop, at the same time displaying a badge and saying he was a revenue officer. Hogan was questioned concerning his personal and business affairs. He warned the man not to touch his car without a search warrant and proceeded to Winchester.

ROME, March 18.—Italy sent an energetic note to Greece demanding the release of the steamship Abazia, and complete satisfaction for recent incidents.

BURBANK'S BETTER GARDEN TIPS THE GARDENER

ARTICLE NO. 1.

MRS. LUTHER BURBANK ILLUSTRATES HER HUSBAND'S GARDEN TIPS.

BY LUTHER BURBANK
World's Greatest Scientific Agriculturist

Before the garden comes, of course, the gardener, and so the fortunate man, woman or child who is to enjoy the companionship of growing things—particularly if this be a first adventure—a few thoughts are suggested.

Remember, first, that plants are living things like you and me.

They respond quickly to intelligent care given them. They are sensitive to such care. And while there is no hard and fast set rule for growing things it is well constantly to remember if you would get the best results, even as an amateur, that your must use your head as well as your muscle.

Anyone who has passed the amateur stage realizes the element of study and intelligent effort required. But what a pleasant avenue of future rewards is offered!

In all too many cases the beginner considers his garden merely a plot of ground in which seeds are placed and water poured. Hence he gets indifferent results and few of the possible pleasures.

Keep this in mind: the plant is a factory manufacturing sunshine into food and beauty. Like humans the plant is striving to reach out and needs intelligent help.

When the gardener begins to realize these things the growing things become more human—and so does he. He finds rest and relaxation in his garden after a busy day and this no matter how small his plot of ground or the types of plants he may grow.

THE GARDEN

When you look out upon your back yard and see a pile of ashes, and old tin cans and other debris lying about—don't despair! Quite the contrary! Here you have a fine start, once the tin cans have been cleaned up and dumped. The ashes are just what you want for the soil.

The average back yard can afford a space of 10 by 20 feet and the average person can easily spade and take care of such a plot.

If it is a vegetable garden you have in mind, such a space will go far toward providing vegetables for a family of three or four.

Now get a good spade, a good trowel and be sure to do a little planning on the garden's form. Straight rows between the beds are important, even though this requires a little more effort. A two-foot width is always sufficient for these, and quite frequently a foot will suffice.

Try to make the garden a family affair. Turn it into exercise, rather than into work. And by all means get the children interested. Nothing is more beautiful and helpful to the child body and mind.

Then, start to dig!

Chesterman Is Movie Censor

RICHMOND, March 19.—Announcement has been made at the office of Governor Trinkle of the appointment of Evan R. Chesterman, as a member of the motion picture censorship board. This naming of Mr. Chesterman to this newly created office is the first announcement of any of the three censors, and Governor Trinkle is being very widely congratulated on the wisdom of his selection.

The three positions to be filled will be for terms of two, three and four years. At the expiration of the terms of the first appointees, the remaining or succeeding appointments will be for terms of four years each.

A long list of Richmond women are understood to be receptive candidates, whose friends are urging their appointment. Prominent among these are Miss Adele Clarke, president of the Virginia League of Women Voters, and Mrs. G. W. T. Kerns, whose activities during the war period are widely known.

Gets Divorce To Let Husband Wed

DENVER, Colo., March 19.—Mrs. Grace Janet Stoffel today obtained a divorce from her husband, George Stoffel, proprietor of a garage, to permit her husband to marry another woman, Miss Nellie Phillips. The divorce decree, which made permanent after six months, will allow Stoffel to

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. $1.25 buys a large 8 oz. bottle at any drug store. Creomulsion Co. Last August it was publicly disclosed that Stoffel maintained two homes, when Miss Phillips complained to the county court that Mrs. Stoffel was seeking to gain possession of the children, and thus would deprive her of her "own flesh and blood." Stoffel was acknowledged as the father of the children.

MONDAY, MARCH 20, 1922.
THAT PESKY BONUS LEGIS-LATION.

President Harding upon his return
from a vacation in Florida where he went it is said, to leave Congress severely alone in its wrestle with the bonus legislation, finds that the villain is still pursuing him and that both Senators and Congressmen are panic-stricken over the potentialities
of recommitment should they adopt
the wrong course. The executive instead of finding the law-makers
emerging successfully from travail in committee arrives in Washington and eager to rush to him for advice and
for explanation of the "frozen credit"
bonus bill which is known to be depreciated by the president. Congressman Mandell, House leader, explains that Mr. Harding has really never understood the bill in question and it is hoped that with further explanation
of it the president will be reconciled
to it and will give the plan his endorsement. The president, however,
is thoroughly informed as to the proposed bonus plan and it is quite likely that there will be a stormy session of the conferees. The president is said to have packed up and left Washington on the spur of the moment and gone to Florida for a "rest" and to get away from the Republicans who
for the past month have been eagerly soliciting the president's views on bonus legislation and then promptly
scorning his advice.

The Florida visit has not cleared the air by any means and the trip has
only served to delay the unhappy
climax until today. The Republican Congress is going to find that if a really satisfactory bonus bill is to be framed and passed the people of the country will have to suffer pain in the pocketbook. They will never be able to find an anaesthetic that will relieve the public of suffering during
the process of securing the money to make the bonus possible.

JURY TO TRY
ARBuckle NOT YET COMPLETE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The
closing of the first week in the trial
of a manslaughter charge against Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle today
found court and counsel still busy with the task of jury selection. The regular jury was finally selected and sworn Thursday, but the choosing of two alternates not only necessitated
the examination of a number of other suitable men but exhausted the panel of 65 who have been called.
The first alternate was selected
quickly after the opening of today's
session, but the remaining selection
either had opinions regarding the defendant's guilt or innocence or were subjected to preliminary challenges.
A new panel was ordered for Monday. Augustus Wild, the alternate selected today, was a former convict nation that his wife had been interrogated over the telephone regarding the case by a woman representing herself as a member of a civic or ginnation.

Scoop's Colyum

ORANGES BRANCH, March 20.—
Orange Week! The automobile is a pop-eyed, mechanical quadruped found
in almost all parts of the earth. They are of various sizes, shapes, and colors,
and feed on oil and gasoline. Some of them live to be five years old.
They are largely nocturnal in their habits,
seeming to delight in staying over the country at night and leaving a lot of mortuary matter in their wake. The eyes of an automobile
are so bright that when they look
upon a person at night, he is absolutely blinded. They seem to enjoy the annoyance they are able to inflict upon people in this way, but a monkey-wrench or two piloted into their face generally breaks them of this nasty habit.
The speed of an automobile is unknown. Lovers of racing have paid enormous sums for well-bred cars and driven them at what they thought sure
would prove to be a world's record.
Then another car would whiz by the first one and make it feel like a hearse
in a funeral procession. No, the speed possibilities of the automobile are not known. But next to gossip, it is said to be the fastest thing on earth.

Minor Musings.

Husband and wife may argue as to
who is "boss" of the house for a while
but not after the first child comes.

"Oh, yes, indeed—in California and Arizona and even in New Mexico."
"And did you ever see the Cherokee saw?"

There was a painful silence, but finally
she looked over her glasses at

It may be the lack of calories or vit-

lack of unselfishness that ruins the health of matrimony.

ARE ACQUITTED OF MURDER AFTER
THREE-DAY TRIAL

LYNCHBURG, Va., March 18.—
George W. Morgan and R. T. Shields,
on trial for the second time at this court on the charge of the murder of
W. L. (Dad) Johnson in November, 1921, were found not guilty by a jury
of 12 men after a three-day trial.
The jury was sworn at 10 o'clock
this morning and the trial began at 11 o'clock. The case was heard by Judge J. C. Scales, who presided over the trial. The jury was composed of 12 men, all of whom were from the local community. The trial was held in the court room of the Lynchburg Circuit Court. The case was heard for three days, from Monday to Wednesday. The jury returned its verdict at 10 o'clock on Wednesday.

Red Tape Leaves Stricken
Vets to Die On Tucson Streets

TUCSON, Ariz., March 18.—Invisible bars of official red tape and
government regulations block the gates of "Pastime Park" here to hundreds of tubercular veterans of the World War entitled to hospitalization and
in need of expert attention.
Massed in Tucson in a common battle against the life-threatening disease are 1,200 stricken "buddies."
Two hundred and seventy-eight are now crowded together in hastily built
frame hospital wards and one-room cottages. A recent inspection showed the six-foot-apart regulation on cot
spacing was violated.
Soon the number of patients in these
temporary quarters will have to be reduced to 252. Death and a summer
odus may solve the problem.
But for the 1,900 others—there is no room.
They are scattered about in cheap
boarding houses, private homes and hotels. Many have had to walk the streets and daily face denial of the care their critical conditions necessitate.
Few have some money. But their day savings are fast dwindling. Most of them are too ill to work. Every one is a potential emergency case.
No Room in Park
Yet there is no room for him at Pastime Park, the inconspicuously
located hospital provided here for the care of the tubercular. The park is now in the hands of the city and how
it will be used is a matter for the future. The city has a recent order from Major General Forbes, head of the Department of Veterans' Bureau, says
that no more men will be sent to the Tucson station.
The Chamber of Commerce of Tucson, with citizens
of the city of Tucson, have had a meeting in the hands of Washington to obtain an order to provide a permanent hospital, built to accommodate the tubercular. The order is to be sent to the Veterans'
Bureau to solve the problem
for the city and to provide for the care of the tubercular.

The district attorney looked over a Rate. "I suppose we gotta." "He Rafe came fully to the point, said
about the kid of Tip O'Gorman."
"Lessee what Sam Larder and Crafty say," the district attorney offered uneasily.
"No, not them, either of 'em," Rafe
declared firmly. "They're friends of Tip's."
Rafe brought his open palm down
on his knee with a crack like a possible shot. "I got it," cried Rafe, and went it. "We'll get three of 'em" at one lick.
"We'll get Simon and that foreman
of his drunk. We'll sick the pair of 'em on Tip O'Gorman. They'll put the kibosh on Tip, and the word will be passed for the sheriff. He will go to make the arrest and they'll plug
him. Being drunk, they'll be desperate and won't care what they do."
"That's all right," said Billy.
"SPRING was in the air, but winter
still held sway in the heart of Billy Wingo. He had not been able to make up his difference with Iltze
Walton, or rather she had not made up her difference with him. It was a cold night of heavy rain and wind. Billy Wingo, a lamp on the table at his elbow, was reading a Denver newspaper. A sudden gust drove a spatter of rain across the windows.
There was a soft thump followed by a
sliding sound against the outside door.
Some one uttered in a woman's voice
a muffled wail.
Billy went at once to the door and lifted the latch. The door opened and something lay on the doorstep and still something that moved a little. Billy let the door fly open. The something was apparently a woman in distress.
Billy bent down, endeavoring to get his hands under her shoulders. Billy bent a little lower and—Smash!
"He's coming out of it," a voice was saying. "I saw his eyelids flicker."
Billy kept his eyes shut, although he was now completely conscious. He believed he knew the owners of those three voices. Sam Larder, Felix Craft and Tip O'Gorman. He opened his eyes. "Was he right? There they were, the three of them. But it was daylight, and a day of sunshine too.
And the last thing he remembered
was a night of wind and rain.
"Glad to see you're coming round,"
said Tip O'Gorman. "How you feel—
pretty good?"
"Pretty good—considering," replied
Billy. "Where am I and how did I get
here?"
"You're in my house," said Sam Larder. "You were—uh—brought
here."
"Who was the woman?" inquired Billy.
"That was the woman," replied Craft
demurely.
"That was one on me. But I'm still wonderin'." You fellows went to a lot of trouble to carry me clear out here. I suppose you fellows think you'll be able to get Dan Slike off by kidnapin' me."
"About Dan Slike we don't care
three whops in hell," replied Tip.
"I didn't really think you did," said
Billy frankly. "But knowing how you
and Tuckerton."
"No, no Billy," interrupted Tip
hastily. "Don't go fussin' about Rafe.
Our business is with you, ere we are.
Here you go."
"Bill, you left your rifle in Golden Bar last night, and took your rifle
with you and both your guns," resumed Tip. "You went to the stable
and saddled your red-and-white pinto
and rode out of town."
"Several people saw you, saw you
so plainly that they could swear to your identity on the witness stand."
"That's good, Gu'n, Tippy, old settler," Billy said. "I've got to be myself. I'm a skulking in the underbrush with half the town watching us like lynxes. What did I do next?"
"This afternoon you'll hold up the Hillsville stage."
"Will I wear a mask?"
"Naturally—and your horse will be seen, your red-and-white pinto that everybody knows. It's something like the trick you worked on Driver and Slike."
"Everybody on the stage will be able to swear to your clothes and your horse and your gun. One of your guns has a brass guard. That gun
especially will be remembered."
"Look here, fellow citizens, who is going to take my part in this stage
hold-up?" asked Billy.
"I'll do it," said Billy modestly. "I
rode your pinto out of town last night,
and I think I made a good impression.
And I have more than a sneaking idea
I can get away with the hold-up."
"Don't doubt it for a minute. You've got nerve enough. I know that, and we're
about of a size. I—uh—I thought
there was something familiar about
the way you're wearing. And are those my other pants you have on?"
"They are, and your coat and hat
are hanging on a hook in the kitchen."
"I ain't gonna get a chance for my alley a-tail. Who'll arrest me—
my own deputies?" asked Billy.
"No, we'll do that. Here's the story. Your horse gave out and Sam
and I went to ride to rustication. One of his corals. Sam threw down on
you, held you up and when we, Sam,
Craft and I, understand searched you,
we found on you a couple of pocketbooks and Jerry's watch.
Jerry's driving the stage. You're watching for a minute. You've got nerve enough. I know that, and we're
about of a size. I—uh—I thought

the way you're wearing. And are

BILLY CATFOOTED UP BEHIND
TIP AND SNATCHED AWAY HIS SIX-SHOOTER.
"I want some pepper! Sam, you lazy
lump of slumgullion, get me some pepper, will you?"
"No, I won't. I'm too comfortable
and you're too finicky."
Bill glanced across at Tip. "You
going to refuse me too, Tip, old citizen?"
"No," said Tip with a weary air. "I suppose not."
He arose and betook himself to the kitchen. Returning with a large old-fashioned tin pepper pot he thumped
it down upon the table in front of the captive. "There y'are. Now, stop your squalling."
"Thank you, Tippy, I will. Yeah."
Billy scraped up to the table as Tip
turned away. "What's the matter
with this pepper pot, anyway?"
Tip turned to look. Billy picked up
the pepper pot slowly and stared at it.
Felix Craft craned his neck.
"I don't see anything the matter
with it," said Craft.
"Don't you?" murmured Billy, his fingers busy with the removable top.
"Look here."
Sam Larder did not move, but both Tip and Craft obeyed. In fact, they obeyed with such good will that the unfolding of pepper that Billy instantly
swept into their faces dusted up their
nostrils as well as into their eyes.
In throwing the pepper Billy had employed his left hand. This left hand had not completed the motion
before Billy was reaching for the corner of eggs with his right hand.
It was unfortunate for Sam Larder
that he was a slow-going gentleman.
The pepper struck him edgewise over the eye and he staggered. Billy had barely cleared the holster. The six-shooter thudded to the floor. Sam and his chair went over backward and lay
together in a tangle and the fragments of broken platter and the remains of several eggs. He was unconscious.
Billy, arriving in Sam's immediate neighborhood a split second after Sam struck, shot and wheeled back to face his other two enemies. But they were too occupied to be an immediate menace. Felix Craft was sitting on the floor, clawing at his eyes
and crying continuously. Tip, coughing and sneezing, was not sneezing. Perhaps he had not sufficient breath. At any rate, he was on his feet, arms spread wide, for he was lunging toward the door giving into
the hall.
Billy cat-footed up behind Tip and snatched away his six-shooter. Tip spun round at the touch, but Billy
popped away from the clutching hands.
Bang! a revolver bullet cut a button from his best and tucked into the wall at his elbow. Billy's sudden movement saved his life. He popped back another two yards to get out of the smoke and crouched, feeling his tense body on the balls of his feet.

600,000 MINERS
WILL JOIN IN STRIKE—LEWIS

NEW YORK, March 18.—Six hundred thousand union miners in the anthracite and bituminous fields will quit work April 1 unless some unfor-
seen solution of the present controversy is offered in the meantime. John L. Lewis, president of the International organization of the United Mine Workers announced today.
Plans for evacuation of the mine
areas under way. Mr. Lewis said.
In the event of a walkout crews of
pumpmen, engineers, firemen watch-
men and helpers will remain at their posts to prevent flooding of the mines
and maintain properties. The men will be issued by the general
policies of the union at Cleveland or Chicago, probably next week. It was said, effective in case operators and
miners fail to arrange a new working contract before April 2.
The order to suspend operations in the anthracite field April 1 already has been issued by the miners' general wage council in session at Washington. The order is a part of a series of eight proposed operators and
miners will meet here Tuesday to discuss a new wage scale for this field.
Cessation of work in bituminous
mines automatically will cease April
1. Mr. Lewis asserted, because of the operators refusal to meet with the miners, in accordance with the terms
of their last contract.

MAN AND WIFE
PERISH IN FIRE

ATLANTA, Ga., March 18.—James
A. Tamm and his wife, 45, were burned to death here at 3 o'clock
this morning when the Grand Theatre,
an abandoned playhouse was gutted
by fire. The Tamms made their home
in an upper floor of the building.
While the firemen were fighting the theatre fire, flames broke out in a pool room next door.
The fire authorities charge both
fires to incendiaries and declare that believed that the fires were during the past four months were the result of arson. The State fire marshal has been summoned and representatives
of several fire underwriters are detained on investigation. The owner of the theatre has offered a $500 reward for the conviction of the fire
bugs and the city authorities announced they will, on Monday offer a reward in the case. Tamm was stage manager of the Imperial Theatre here
when the pepper had been overlooked.

KILLED IN COLLISION
OF TWO AUTOMOBILES

ATLANTA, Ga., March 18.—Dr. D.
L. Tamm, prominent physician of Atlanta, Ga., was killed instantly
when his automobile collided with a taxi cab in the public market. The taxi cab was driven by a woman, who was killed instantly. The car was driven by a woman, who was killed instantly. The car was driven by a

Alleged Moonshiner Shot Through Arm By Federal Raiders

One man was shot through the arm, another arrested, a 75-gallon still was captured and whisky and distilling equipment was taken by federal and state officers Saturday afternoon at the gap of Smith's mountain in the upper end of Pittsylvania county. O. F. Barker, the man who was wounded by the officers, was brought to Danville early last night and his injured arm was dressed by Dr. W. O. Lee. Both men were bonded last night in the sum of $1,000 for the next term of federal court by United States Commissioner C. T. Barksdale.

With W. T. Shelton, State agent, the moving spirit, federal agents J. N. Wood, R. L. Dittling, L. Cham-burn and A. A. May went by automobile to Smith's mountain yesterday, arriving about 1 p. m. The still was in full blast when they arrived. Barker, Robertson and a boy working the plant. When the officers came up and the moonshiners saw them Barker and Robertson started to run. Barker ran a few paces then drew a pistol which he was carrying in a holster on his belt. Before he could fire one of the three federal officers shot, hitting him in his right arm and he surrendered. Robertson also stopped running and surrendered.

The two men were brought to Danville, the boy not being needed. Friends followed the party to town and bond was made. The still was one of the best equipped that has been captured in the county in a long while. As a run had been started very little whisky was found. However, 500 gallons of beer was discovered and poured out. In addition to the still seven fermenters, two kegs, cooler, etc., were found and destroyed.

Officer Shelton said that certain parties in the neighborhood of the still had been after him for a long time to break up moonshine operations in that section. He had previously made raid and had captured a still near where the one Saturday was found, but there were no men at the still.

"READ-WYL-Y-RYD" NEWSPAPER SERVICE

Four "Read-Wyl-U-Ryd" newspaper sales boxes were installed on street cars in this city Saturday and patrons of the trolley today can get the latest news while they ride to their destination. This latest move of The Register to furnish more efficient service to its readers will, it is hoped, prove popular.

The idea in selling papers by this method is to leave the matter of paying for the paper entirely up to the honor of the buyer. It is not a scheme to get a paper without paying for it so inclined. However, the system has worked out in a satisfactory manner in other cities and it is expected that the same result will be noted here.

REPORTS MADE ON TAX RETURNS

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Preliminary reports received today by the treasury department of collections of 1918 installments of income and profits taxes show a total of $286,000,000 on deposit in Federal reserve banks. The reports, it was explained, covered collections deposited up to last night and several days must elapse before all districts were accounted for or the final total for the quarter approximated. On the basis of the amount received so far officials declared it was impossible as yet to determine whether Secretary Mellon's estimation of $460,000,000 in tax receipts for the quarter would be obtained. Receipts from March payments last year aggregated $727,000,000.

—Mrs. L. W. Morton, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. R. D. Black, will leave Sunday morning for her home in Richmond, Va. accompanied by her niece, little Miss Elizabeth Black.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing.

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is better than anything else you can use).

One or two teaspoonsful of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified—adv.

Reward Offered For the Arrest Of Brunen's Slayer

Daily despatches on developments in connection with the murder of John Brunen, circus owner, at his home in Riverdale, N. J., are being read with interest in this city, owing to the fact that Brunen has many friends here because of his lengthy stay during the winter of 1918-19 when his show was compelled to quarter here during the influenza epidemic. Brunen, then owner of the "Mighty Doris" shows which were to fill the engagement for the Danville Fair that year, became widely acquainted and made many friends. The following account gives further developments which will be read with interest here:

RIVERSIDE, N. J., March 18.—Prosecutor J. H. Kelsey will petition the Board of Freeholders of Burlington county tomorrow to offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of the murderers of "Honey" John Brunen, the wealthy showman, who was shot in his home here last Friday evening.

He said it is probable that the residents of Riverside would also offer a reward, and that he would later ask Governor Edwards to offer a State reward. After following the various clues in an effort to locate the murderer of Brunen, Burlington county authorities are making a renewed effort to find George L. Werner, a former employee of the Brunen shows, and known in the circus world as "Dutchy, the chef."

"We have no desire to arrest Werner," said Ellis Parker, county detective today. "But Werner holds the key to a certain angle in the case, and an opportunity to question him may enable us to capture the slayer without delay."

Carl "Doc" Ward, a former ballyhoo man who was in Brunen's employ until some time last year, was brought here tonight by Police Captain James Larkin, of Jersey City, and at a late hour still was being well questioned in the county jail by County Detective Parker. Why he was brought to Burlington county was not made known by the officials, but it is generally believed here that he is able to throw some light on the murder mystery.

Ward, it is said, was a friend of Parkenson, the lion tamer, who eloped with the murdered show man's daughter, Hazel. According to Detective Parker today, when Brunen talked with him here after he had Parkenson arrested, Brunen said that he had no objection to the man personally, but did not consider him as a fit person to be the husband of his young daughter, and admitted that he had threatened him if he did not keep away from her.

Photographs of Werner were sent broadcast yesterday. He was recently discharged by Brunen from the winter-quarters of the show, at Williamstown. Prosecutor Kelsey continued to express his indignation today at the action of Assistant District Attorney Welsh, of Philadelphia, in making public a letter written by Brunen to his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Jeschke, Gary, Ill., 13 days before he was murdered. In this letter Brunen expressed the belief that his wife was planning to "do away" with him.

"The contents of this letter being made public so upset our plans," said Kelsey, "that we have not questioned any members of the murdered man's family since the night of the crime. While we are not ready to take responsibility for the crime on anyone, we have, on the other hand, not eliminated anyone from suspicion."

It has been learned that Hazel Brunen, the slain man's 18-year-old daughter, has been receiving mail at Palmyra, N. J., post office under the assumed name of Nolan.

Her stepmother and widow of the showman, Mrs. Doris Brunen, usually accompanied the girl and is said to have shown great interest in the letters.

All of the employees of the Doris Ferreri shows, at Williamstown, numbering 400, including concessionaires, are being questioned by the police in the hope that they may be able to give some information that may be of value to the authorities in solving the mystery.

Hazel Brunen, the daughter, when seen at the Brunen home today, said that the show will start on the road March 20 and said: "Mother and I go with it. Mother as cashier of the outfit and Harry C. Mohr, mother's brother, will be manager."

The young girl, who is rather a pretty blonde, termed the letter sent by her father to his sister as "a pack of lies." When questioned further she refused to answer and referred the visitor to Walter S. Keown, a Camden lawyer, retained by her mother as counsel immediately after "Honest John" was slain.

Harry Benton, the advance agent for the shows, also appeared at the door. "I'm the advance agent of the show, never mind my name," he asserted. "I just want to say Brunen was a very crafty man, who would lie awake nights scheming and planning to cheat. He had countless enemies who threatened him many times. I'm ashamed to admit it, but I know both members of the same lodge of Elks. All I'm interested in now is getting this show on the road. It means a livelihood for 400 people."

Danville To Have A Military Band

A Coast Artillery band of the Virginia National Guard is to be organized in Danville. Col. M. M. Milton commanding the Virginia N. G. Coast Artillery Corps, has sent a telegram to S. W. Minor, of this city stating that enlistment papers for the band have been sent, and requesting that they be executed and returned to his office in Richmond as soon as possible. Albert A. Hall's band is to be enlisted en masse and as soon as all the papers have gone through the usual procedure the band will become a regular unit of the State's National Guard.

A number of cities were after this unit and Danville was successful because of Mr. Hall's band was found to be the most creditable organization. As soon as the military authorities at Richmond became apprised of this fact little time was lost before the matter went through.

PLOT TO BLOW UP PROPERTY OF CO. IS UNCOVERED

PORTSMOUTH, Va., March 18.—A plot with wide ramifications to blow up bridges and property and cripple service of the Virginia Railway and Power company, operating street car lines in this city and vicinity, has been uncovered by Norfolk county police. Two men, who, it is alleged, last night attempted to blow up the company's Craddock Bridge have been arrested and police lines have been cast for others involved in the plot. The company is engaged in a strike with its platform employees, of two months duration.

U. S. WOMEN YIELD TO PARIS DECREE AND SKIRTS COME DOWN

(By Hedda Hoyt. Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 18.—(United Press.)—Inch by inch women are yielding to the verdict of the long skirt. When Paris first decreed the long skirt, American women stubbornly refused to lengthen their hems, but designers shrewdly brought out the long panel as a "coup de resistance." If we are looking for a place to cast the blame of the long hem, we can "pin" the panel.

Over two hundred American buyers and manufacturers arrived this week from Paris, returning from the latest Paris openings, and the only real style revolution which they brought is the long skirt. Evening gowns must be long if Milady wishes to continue in fashion's whirl. Suits and day time frocks will be short, but not so short as we have been wearing. Ten inches from the floor seems to be the standard length. The knee length hem is passe.

Silhouettes are so varied this season that the who fancies herself in bouffant frills can be as fluffy in peo- edged hip ruffles and wide skirts as a full-blown corymbiform and she who fancies the long, straight lines can panel herself into a string-bean effect.

Waist lines are long. A new treatment of the long waist is achieved on the draped gown which hangs loose to the waist and then is drawn tightly across the front and back and caught in gathers on the hips. A long draped side panel usually accompanies a gown of this type.

The bateau neckline predominates in Paris, although a few low V-shaped necks appear on some of the dressy frocks.

Sleeves are the most striking note in the season's costume. They are long and extremely wide and bell-shaped for day wear and the evening gowns have sleeves that are short and balloon shaped or are entirely sleeveless.

The three-piece suit is even proving to be more popular than the former-runners of fashion predicted. Nearly every gown for the coming season has a jacket or short cape to match without which it would be as forlorn an object as the proverbial stepchild. Short leather jackets made in red, green, and white are being sponsored by the smart Parisians.

A shade somewhat darker than opium peel. It is worn with patent leather slippers which display huge bejeweled and glittering buckles. These buckles, by the way, are one of the newest Paris fashion wrinkles. This dressing-up of the foot is probably due to the fact that sheer hose—the former pedal attraction—is hidden under longer skirts.

BIG ILLICIT BOOZE TRADE, ALSO ALIENS

BY PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The art of "freeloading" has become the greatest of America's new industries. Officials of the revenue, customs, prohibition and immigration departments admitted here today that the earnings from smuggling liquor and aliens in the United States reaches millions year.

Not only are employed in the organized schemes to slip liquors and immigrants into the United States through the unprotected southeastern coast areas.

Scores of boats make regular trips from Cuban and Central American ports, depositing their illicit cargoes on unfrequented spots along the shore line.

Well-organized companies on American short transport the shipments to all parts of the country.

Secretary of Labor Davis admits conditions in the south are "terrible" and perhaps much worse than most believe. He said the immigration department had received hundreds of notices of the widespread traffic, but is helpless.

"We have all the men we can spare stationed down there, but they are not enough," he said.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes admits smuggling is the chief source of American liquor supply. He has drawn scores of schemes, hoping to break up the traffic. Recently he attempted to pres an airplane into the Gulf of Mexico to isolate portions of the Gulf and South Atlantic coast lines, but it ended in failure.

The revenue and customs department have only a little more than 300 representatives along the coast from North Carolina to Texas and most of these are clerks, stenographers and such.

There are only a few revenue cutters available for the 1,000 miles of Florida coast line, coast guard officials say.

With these inadequate forces it is practically impossible to prevent the traffic. The South Atlantic and Gulf coast are so broken with small inlets, bays and nooks that it is a simple matter for a small sloop to slip in at night. The cargoes are then disguised and shipped to all parts of the United States or the immigrants released and allowed to make their way about the country as they see fit.

Only huge increases in congressional appropriations will enable the government to stifle this traffic, officials say. And there is little prospect of increases in appropriations since Congress slashed the ne w appropriations bill until it carries only a fraction of original plans.

BROTHER ACTS FREQUENT IN SPORT FIELD

NEW YORK, March 18.—(United Press.)—Being the brother of a star brother is a tough load for any young athlete to carry. Very few get beyond the point where they are known only as the brother of the "famous So-and-So."

Some, however, overcome the handicap and get themselves out in front on individual merit.

Tommy Gibbons, light heavyweight boxer, did it. No. Mike is known as the brother of Tom.

George Meredith, brother of the famous Ted, is another youngster who is getting along in the same line of work. George is making good as a runner with the University of Pennsylvania teams, where Ted made several world's records.

Perhaps the best brother act is represented in the Zyzzyks—Stanley and Wladek—both of whom have held the world's heavyweight wrestling championship.

Benny Leonard has a young brother, Willie, coming on. He hasn't been given a chance to show himself publicly, but his champion brother says he will succeed him as the king of the lightweight.

Boxing kind of runs in the Leonard family. Charley, Benny's older brother, was a fine amateur boxer, but he admits that he was "too lazy" to train for a professional.

Brother acts are more common in tennis. The Kinsley brothers—Stanley and Wladek—are of the best teams in the country, and the young Anderson brothers of New York are a star doubles combination. The three

Jones boys of Providence are also fine players. Star brothers are common in football in the cases of the two Callahans, the two Robertsons, the Storck boys, the Devines and many others.

The three Shade boys from California, the Downeys from Ohio and the Deimont boys are other examples of family combinations in the ring.

Bob and Irish Musel and "Doc" and Jimmy Johnson are the best working pairs of brothers in baseball. For some reason baseball does not seem to pass itself around much in the same family.

Famous fathers and famous sons have a few noted examples, although it is seldom that a son can fill the shoes of a famous father.

Right now, young Jake Schaeffer, world's billiard champion, is the best example of a son making good at his father's game.

Young Bob Fitzsimmons tried to do it, but couldn't make good. Max Kinsella has a boy who is trying to make the major league grade, but he hasn't played himself out of the bushes yet.

GERMANY ELECTRIFYING.

BERLIN, Mar. 18.—(United Press)—Electrification of Germany's railway system is progressing gradually, especially in central Germany, where the regular service started January 27, from Bitterfeld to Dessau. By the end of 1922 the line Leipzig-Halle-Bitterfeld-Magdeburg, running over 180 kilometers, will be completed. Besides this line another 180 kilometers will be opened in Silesia from Hirschberg to Goerlitz and Zittau. Both lines are near the large coal fields.

Murder among the ancient Persians was not punishable at a first offense.

NOTICE JUNIORS

All members of J. E. B. Stuart Council No. 115, John Forbes Council No. 144 and W. P. Graves Council No. 50 are requested to be present at the 1922 J. E. B. 5 Hurt As Boy Picks
Cartridge With Pin

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., March 19.—Five children were injured and 25 others were thrown into a panic when a large cartridge, public for an army rifle, exploded in a room of a public school at Perth, two miles west of here, yesterday afternoon.

Robert Kovacs, 13 years old, of William street, Perth, who was handling the cartridge when it exploded, was so severely cut on the thumb, index finger and second finger of his left hand that they had to be amputated at the Perth Amboy city hospital.

Others injured were: Bessie Wilson, of Perth, head bruised, Mary Zick, of Perth, bruised and cut on legs, Marguerite Quisenberry, of Perth, arms bruised, and Louis Toforovich, of Perth, legs cut and bruised.

Kovacs is said to have told that he found the cartridge in a shed near a road leading from a government arsenal. He did not know what it was, he said, and took it into the school room. He began to pick at it with a pin and it exploded. The desk and books on it were damaged. Pieces of wood and fragments of the cartridge hit the other children wounded.

The uninjured pupils were highly excited and rushed from the room. Miss P. A. Nash, a nurse, gave first aid to all but Kovacs and they went home.

It is probable that the accident will result in investigation by the county board of freeholders. Many children have been hurt by explosions of cartridges which they found along the roads and in the fields, but this is the first time an explosion has injured more than one child. The cartridges are believed to have been dropped by vehicles of salvage concerns that move explosives from the Raritan arsenal about four miles away.

There are about 150 pupils in the Perth school. When the news of the accident began to spread many mothers hurried there to ascertain whether their children had been hurt.

Death in Washington of Mrs. Thomas A. Corbin

Information has been received in this city of the death at her residence in Washington, D. C., on Friday of Mrs. Cora Reade Corbin, many years a resident of this city and widely connected here. Mrs. Corbin was the widow of Thomas A. Corbin, who was killed a few years ago when his automobile plunged over an embankment between Winston-Salem and Greensboro. She was a daughter of the late Mayo C. Jones, a well known resident of North Danville.

Born in Nelson county, Va., about 62 years ago, she moved with her parents to Lynchburg, and after a few years residence there the family removed to North Danville about 45 years ago and there resided for many years. Miss Jones, for she was the eldest daughter, became the wife of Thomas A. Corbin in 1881 and continued to reside with him until the early part of the present century when her husband moved to Cuba. Returning from that island, the family took up residence at Winston-Salem, where Mr. Corbin was residing when his untimely death shocked his friends. Thereafter Mrs. Corbin resided at Lynchburg and afterwards to Washington, D. C., where she made her home until her death.

With her when she died were her daughters, Mrs. Ethel Walker, wife of Ralph Walker, and Mrs. Evelyn Flow, both well remembered from their residence here twenty years ago. Mrs. Corbin's mother survived her father a number of years. She is herself survived by her sisters, Mrs. Edward H. Williams, of this city; Mrs. Mattie Turner, wife of E. E. Turner, of Lynchburg, now suffering from a fractured hip; and Mrs. Margaret Pierce, widow of Harry E. L. Pierce. The body of Mrs. Corbin will pass through Danville tonight en route to Winston-Salem, where it will be interred Monday beside that of her husband.

Auto Racer Is Fatally
Hurt at Greensboro, N. C.

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 20.—Willie Wilds, auto race driver, of Columbia, S. C., was fatally injured here Saturday when a machine which he was driving in the Greensboro automobile races turned over on the tracks at the Central Carolina fair grounds. He died two hours later at a local hospital. Ernest Brown, mechanic for Wilds, escaped with slight injuries.

Wilds was completing the first lap of a ten-mile race when the accident happened. In attempting to make one of the turns he lost control. The car skidded for several feet, wobbled and then turned over four times, landing upright on its wheels. Wilds was thrown to the ground while Brown was hurled high into the air and landed several feet from the machine. Although Wilds is a professional driver, he was hurried to the hospital by a local doctor and out of the way of other automobiles.
